

Elder Care Consultation & Referral Service

*Are you concerned about an aging parent
or other relative?*

(415) 750-4111

Have you noticed your loved one having difficulties with everyday activities like dressing, bathing, or shopping?

Or maybe you're seeing indications of memory loss, loneliness, or isolation?

Our professionals can help you identify the specific needs of your elderly loved one, and will research resources in the community to address their needs.

Call (415) 750-4111
to speak with an Elder Care Specialist or email us: rdavis@ioaging.org

It is never too early to learn about services for older or disabled relatives. Call us, even if things are going well, to help you start planning for your older relatives' needs.

This valuable service is available at no cost to UCSF Faculty, Staff, Students and Retirees through a partnership between UCSF Child and Elder Care Services and the Institute on Aging.
