MORE SFMTA WORK ON 3RD (MB)

The SFMTA has notified us that they are diligently trying to finish work on the UCSF Mission Bay platform on 3rd Street in a timely manner, but due to rain delays and other issues, they are a bit delayed. This delay has put the project team in a space where it’s necessary for them to move back into 24-hour shifts until platform completion at the end of April. The contractor is doing everything in their power to perform any noisy tasks during the daytime and farther from Mission Bay Housing. But, even with the project team doing what they can to not perform noisy tasks at night, sometimes night noise will occur. The noise that you will most likely hear will be back up beeps and truck noises as well as construction teams talking to each other. It will be non-continuous and intermittent, 7 days a week, starting now through April 30. SFMTA is planning to complete the concrete pours and noisiest work that may impact Mission Bay Housing by the end of this month.

If you have any questions or concerns, email the project team at ucsplatform@sfmta.com. Please cc Danielle.Cambier@ucsf.edu so she can forward your emails to the appropriate UCSF leadership.

UBER BUILDING NIGHT WORK (MB)

Uber and Truebeck Construction will be working overnight on 3rd Street at South Street with the noisiest work from 8-10pm for the next two weeks. If you have any complaints about the Uber building work, please email Danielle.Cambier@Ucsf.edu so she can pass the information on.

WEILL NEUROSCIENCES BUILDING NIGHT WORK (MB)

The night pour that was originally scheduled for March 23rd has been moved to the 24th at 1am. This is the last concrete on the north side of the site. In addition, there will be two night pours on the south side of the work site on April 6 and April 13. Ten night pours in total remain with the last one scheduled for June 13. If you have any questions or concerns about the noise coming from this project just south of us, please email WeillNeuroBldg@ucsf.edu or Christine.Shaff@ucsf.edu.

EARLY MORNING WORK AT WARRIORS/CHASE CENTER (MB)
Mortenson/Clark, the builders of the Chase Center/Warriors Arena, have notified UCSF Housing Services of some upcoming early morning work. They will be placing architectural, colored concrete on the arena’s plaza, and a concrete pump truck will be set up on South Street (the road that connects Gene Friend Way Plaza to the Bay). The truck will be placed on South Street at Bridgeview Street, which is about a block away from the 3rd Street intersection. Because of the distance and being on the other side of the Uber building, and because they will turn off the truck’s back-up warning beeper, they anticipate no disruption to UCSF Housing Tenants. This work will be from 4:00 AM to 7:00 AM, every Monday/Wednesday/Friday, beginning April 1st and continuing through May 3rd. To register a complaint or concern regarding construction for the Chase Center, please call the Project's hotline, 24/7, at (415) 308-1779.

SPRING EQUINOX CELEBRATION (P)

There is a tale of a mystical and distant land around 41st Avenue and Lincoln Way where pagans will be gathering to celebrate the spring equinox (tomorrow around 1pm). There will be circles of small people and they will be searching for strange white or dyed oval-shaped animal products. Gather round and bring some boots for exploring this magical land. ENERGY SAVINGS TIP (MB/P)

You can help to save energy by turning down your electric heaters. Keep the windows and air vents closed in cold weather, and try to minimize electrical heating. During the daytime, you can also heat up your room by allowing the sun to shine in so keep those blinds open for natural solar power. If the heater is on, close the window to trap warm air.
